RIGHT PEOPLE – RIGHT AWAY

RIGHT PEOPLE

IT AND BUSINESS CONTRACTORS-FIND THE PERFECT MATCH FOR YOUR PROJECT, NOW

IT is the focal point in a wide range of business processes, and demands are shifting rapidly. Even in the short term, it may be difficult to predict the competencies your business requires. At the same time, the best IT-profiles are highly sought after, and many of them are not freely available to the traditional labour market, as they are self-employed.

Imagine the possibilities opening up to you if you could effortlessly reach into the market and pick out the exact competencies you needed at any given time. That is the option we aim to give you.

Right People Group has more than 10 years' experience delivering IT-consultants. Each client has a single, dedicated consultant manager who handles the whole process. This ensures that the collaboration is effective, and we can deliver consultants who match your requirements perfectly.

We realise that timing is essential, and are able to assign a consultant to the project within few days.

YOUR DEDICATED CONSULTANT MANAGER

Our consultant managers understand the substance of your projects and technologies. Our most important role is to translate this understanding into choosing the most suitable consultant.

That is why our consultant managers define the task with you, and the manager himself completes the entire process in terms of recruitment and quality assurance. As such, we ensure that no information is lost in the handover, and that you always talk to the same person. It's efficient and gives you a high-quality delivery.

All of our consultant managers have higher education, are analytically strong, and have solid technical knowledge. Starting from our knowledge of the consultant market, we attempt to challenge and advise you so that we may deliver the perfect consultant for the task.

WE DELIVER THE RESOURCE YOU NEED

Thanks to our wide network of freelance consultants, we are able to deliver experts with the exact skills you need within fields such as:

- | Project management
- | Software development
- | IT-infrastructure
- | IT-architecture
- | IT-Support
- | Test
- | Management

OUR DELIVERY MODEL

We use our established procedure to search the contractor market in order to effectively find the best match for your task. As such, you are assured that both quality and price are competitive.

Our concept is not unique, but we put in more effort than most! We continuously work on improving our ability to understand the needs of our clients, reach a wider network of consultants, and deliver the perfect match.

How do we find the consultants?

We have our own IT-platform with thousands of associated IT and business contractors, and an established procedure for distribution of new tasks via portals and forums. If it is necessary to look abroad to find the right skills, we have access to an extensive international partner network and an international organisation based in Berlin.

INTERNATIONAL NETWORK

Supply and demand do not always meet. That is why we use our international organisation and a large European partner network to move contractors across markets.

It also means that we are able to deliver highly qualified consultants at lower prices if language skills and cultural background are less important. We are also able to help you with complete development teams for larger projects.

In order to avoid you having to waste time on practical questions with regards to the movement of workforce, we offer a plug and play solution when foreign consultants come in to work onsite for you.

Our international team is based in Berlin, and assists with recruitment across borders.

RIGHT PEOPLE GROUP

Right People Group is an international consulting firm exclusively working with independant consultants to offer maximum efficiency in the delivery.

Since 2007, we have delivered self-employed IT and business consultants to both public and private clients across several industries.

Our clients use us as an effective tool for searching the market in order to find the right resources for their projects.

Staff on Demand is a necessary characteristic for speed, functionality and flexibility in a fast-changing world.

WHY WE BELIEVE IN »STAFF ON DEMAND«

We believe that the winning businesses of the future are the ones who combine skilled permanent staff with flexible external specialists.

At Right People Group, we view the increasing use of self-employed consultants as a valuable and necessary part of the modern labour market. In an ever-changing world, organisations must be agile in order to remain competitive.

Meanwhile, a career as a contractor is attractive to skilled experts who enjoy varying challenges and the opportunity to develop their knowledge through new projects.
